Asiatic Cholera Takes its Westward Course.

and Doing.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—[Copyright, 1892, by the New York Associated Press. The officials of the local government board who are charged to watch the progress of cholera tonight are less confident of the metropolis escaping a visitation of the disease. The Graves-end cases reported today are undoubtedly cases of Asiatic cholera. With cholera at Gravesend, and infected persons probably roaming about in our midst, some outbreak of the disease in London is considered inevitable. The port of London Sanitary Committee has applied for a vast increase of its staff, otherwise it cannot undertake the surveillance of ships entering the Thames from infected continental ports. But no Thames cordon will suffice to shut out the danger of infection. A stream of arrivals from the continent comes via Harwich, South ampton and other ports by train, with-out inspection. The railway and steam-ship companies, excepting the Trans-atlantic lines, show no intention to suspend their ordinary arrangements. The authorities expect an outbreak and are preparing to meet it. In the East End the water supply has been tested and found to be of doubtful quality, and changes have been ordered in the diteriors.

ing apparatus. People of South Lon-don have been warned that their water is a source of danger.
Dr. Thorne, chief of the London Medical Department, has no doubt that the Gravesend cases are Asiatic cholera. London, Aug. 26.—There is no doubt colera has at last entered England. The disease was brought here by the steamer Gemma, which arrived at Gravesend yesterday from Hamburg. It was reported that the steamer was infected, but the authorities, after examining the passengers allowed them amining the passengers, allowed them to land. A few hours afterward two aliens who arrived on the Gemma were taken sick. They were at once removed to the hospital at Gravesend, where the doctors pronounced their malada In spite of medical aid they cholera.

cholera. In spite of medical aid they both died shortly after being admitted. This has caused considerable anxiety and a close inspection of all in-coming vessels has been ordered.

The report of these two deaths at Gravesend was telegraphed throughout the country and produced great excitement. Today the steamer Laura, plying between Hamburg and Lynn, arrived at Lynn. The officers found two cholera suspects on board and the vessel was immediately ordered to put back to sea. Officers and passengers protested against such summary treatment, but the health officers were obdurate and refused to let a single person land from the steamer.

IT REACHES BERLIN.

The Dreaded Scourge Appears in the German Capital.

Berlin, Aug. 26.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] This morning a woman became suddenly ill in an omnibus and was taken to a hospital, where she was pronounced to be suffering from Asiatic cholera. The Moabit hospital has been reserved for cholera patients. All trade in second-hand clothing has been stopped. A workman on a train on the Hamburg-Berlin Railway was seized with Asiatic cholera today at Wittenberg, and died in a few hours. Twenty-eight cases of cholera and twelve deaths are reported in Altona since yesterday noon. An artisan died of Asiatic cholera in Pinneberg, and a child belonging to a family that fied from Hamburg died of the same disease in Kiel cholera had occurred in the capital. The only fatal cases of a diarrhocal nature were cases of dissentary. The commission decided to prepare 600 beds in the Moabit hospital for cholera patients and accommodations in other hospitals if necessary. Orders were given for the more efficient cleansing of the streets of the city. AT HAMBURG.

Authorities Meking a Vigorous Fight Against the Disease.

Hambune, Aug. 26.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The police have issued orders forbidding the inhabitants to drink water from the Elbe, unless it has been previously boiled. The bath-ing places along the river have been closed. The police will make a house-to-house inspection to insure their beto-house inspection to insure their being clean, and enforce sanitary measures whenever they are required. A special corps has been organized to disinfect houses infected with cholera. Official statistics show that on Wednes-Official statistics show that on Wednesday there were 188 new cases of the disease reported, while the deaths numbered thirty-two. Up to noon Thursday there were ninety new cases and forty-one deaths. There were eight deaths from the disease at Altona yesterday; most of the deaths occurred among laborers employed about the docks—boatmen, etc.

borers employed about the docks—boatmen, etc.

London, Ang. 26.—The Standard's correspondent at Vienna'says: "A vessel belonging to the Austrian and Northwestern line plying on the Elba, has just arrived here with most of her crew suffering with cholera which was contracted while at Hamburg. In Bohemia an alarming increase of socalled dysentery is reported. Several sudden deaths have occurred, but the doctors are positive there in no Asiatic cholera there.

POOLISH BELGIAN OFFICIALS.

Clean Bills of Health Given by Them at Antwern, Aug. 26.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The Scheldt board of health has taken action such as is likely to cause little reliance to be placed on the bals of health issued by it. It has announced that it sees no reason to make any change in its bills of health on account of a few suspicious cases of sickness coming from Havre and Hamburg. It will, therefore, continue to deliver clean bills of health. As it is indisputably proved that Asiatic cholera is present in Ant-werp, the health authorities of other cities will know the value of the clean bills of health issued by the Scheld board.

Gloomy Reports From Russia. Sr. Prinspose, Aug. 26.—Cholera returns for yesterday show another upward jump in the number of new cases ward jump in the number of new cases, an in-crease of 700 over the previous day. Officials of the Government having charge of the enforcement of the quarantine laws of the country are unquestionably much concerned over the seritous hold that epidemic cholera has taken in Europe, and view the situation as regards the admission of the disease into the United States with some alarm, though they feel fully prepared, should cholera become epidemic here. I will regard it as only little short of a miracle if cholera fails to fol-low its old and accustomed line of travel, involving an invasion of this continent. If we escape it will only be through an awakening to the perilous situation, and by extraordinary efforts, the immediate enforcement of national scientific methods of defense as embodied in our own quaran-tine system."

By Telegraph to The Times.

MALONE (N. Y.,) Ang. 28.—{By the Associated Press.} The village was astir qarly and Democrats vied with Republicans in preparing a suitable recep-tion to the Chief Magistrate. The vil-lage was handsomely decorated and peo-ple swarmed in from all directions. At 12:30 the Presidential train arrived. President Harrison was conducted to the Howard House, where luncheon was served, followed by an interval of rest The President was then escorted to the park, where exercises were held by the Malone Twenty-seventh Separate Company. A detachment from Brennan Post, G.A.R., did duty as body-guard along the route. The grand stand was handsomely decorated and upon it were leading citizens of the county. The exercises opened with "America." Chairman Kilburn followed with an address of welcome, to which the President responded with a half-hour's speech. The President said, in part:

We are here today as citizens, not as We are here today as citizens, not as partisans, to give expression to those common interests which fortunately for us as a nation, obliterate all party aivision and make us a people in its defense. We are a favored nation in the great isolation which we enjoy. But it must not be supposed that this separation from close contact with the great powers that forever stand that this separation from close contact with the great powers that forever stand on the threatening siege of war has left us without duties and responsibilities. I fancy we are entering now upon a career when our external influence in commerce is to be larger than ever before. We have in a large part completed our great work of internal improvement and I see no reasonwhy the United States should not from today step forward into a position of power and influence among great commercial relations of the world such as she has never enjoyed. The wise and timely inauguration of the new navy demonstrated the capacity of our American shipyards to produce the best ships in the world, and I take delight in contemplating the fact that before another year one of the swiftest and best of all the great lines of steamships going out of New York will carry the American flag. The great stores of agricultural products with which we feed the nations of Europe will, I believe, soon be delivered in American bottoms.

I believe we have seen the last of serious outbreaks against the supremacy of our Constitution that we shall ever see. Inteligence and morality among the people, the church, school and home, the great rocks upon which our Constitution and asiety rest, we will cherish and preserve.

And now, comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic, I give you a comrade's greeting today. God bless you, every one! Gof brild that the heartlessness of any American can begrudge to any of you the just dues of your hard service. [Great applause.]

The battle continued several hours with battle continued several nours with varying success. The modern rifles and better training of the government troops produced great loss on the other side. The government troops saw after a time that the battle was going against them and tried to cut their way out. Both sides seemed to become crazed and fought furiously. The dead lay on all sides and the wounded were trampled on as the scene of conflict changed from place to place.

SEVERAL HUNDRED KILLED. Late in the afternoon the remnant of the government troops succeeded in getting through the lines of the enemy. They beat a hasty retreat to a distance where they got a little needed rest. The revolutionists were too weakened to pursue them. It was then discovered that 500 of the 800 men were killed.

M. Sheely, Esq., Chattanooga, Tenn.—MY
DEAR Sits: Your letter of the 11th inst. at hand. In reply I have to say that I have not the least idea what your worthy friend meant when he declared that I had been the medium through which 20,000 families were made homeless and had lost their all aghting for their rights. I am perfectly well aware that I have been the means of saving some homes to my countrymen and have tried very hard to make the burden of their lives easier. I am amazed at receiving from a Southern county letters containin the case hard to make the burden of their lives easier. I am amazed at receiving from a Southern county letters containing charges like that which you bring to my attention. I am surprised, first, at the ingenuity necessary for their concoction without the least semblance of foundation. I am the more amazed that with my record before the people of this country such baseless lies should be deemed sufficient arguments to prejudice me and the cause which I for the time being represent in the minds of the Southern people. Very truly yours, [Signed] GROVER CLEVELAND.

CAMP ANACAPA.

The Last Day but One of the Encampment at Ventura.

Mock Parade During the Afternoon and ing-The Regiment to Break Camp This Morning.

Yesterday was the last day but one of the Ventura encampment of the Seventh Regiment, N.G.C., and today the regiment will break camp, the various companies returning to their homes, three in this city, one in Pasadena and one in Anaheim. The ten days have proved even more enjoyable than an-ticipated and the standard of excellence and proficiency in the various compli-cated drill exercises has been inestimably heightened. Yesterday the enlisted men of the regiment had arranged to hold a mock parade, selecting their own officers, and for the once to shut out their commissioned commanders and run things to suit themselves. Accordingly, at 1:30 p.m. sharp a bugle call was sounded, and forth from the streets of the camp onto the parade ground there marched as motley a looking crew of human be-ings as one would see in a year's jour-ney. Coats were turned wrong side ney. Coats were turned wrong side out, leggins were worn on arms and heads, cigar boxes and empty fruit cans were worn for epaulettes, and a twelve-foot ceiling broom did service for a standard, from which floated not the bloody shirt of history, but a similar article of modern apparel minus the gore. It would take columns to even classify the many grotesque and ludicrovs costumes. Some of the most popular and best drilled of the men had been chosen for officers and conducted the movements with accuracy and disbeen chosen for officers and conducted the movements with accuracy and dispatch. Sergt. Charles Lehnhausen, of Co. A, was colonel, Sergt. George Fitch, of the bugle corps acting as adjutant. Corp. Rudy, of Co. F, rode a white mule, and with an immense book clasped tightly against his black, long-skirted coat, looked every inch the chaplain he impersonated. The company officers were taken from among the corporals and sergeants, and each did his part admirably. Addit. Fitch first formed the battalion, then Col. Lehnformed the battalion, then Col. Lehnformed the battalion, then Col. Lenn-hausen received the reports of company officers and reviewed the troops, after which the whole formed in procession and marched up town through the prin-cipal streets and back to the camp at 8

Here a mock funeral service was gone through with, and the chaplain's extempore remarks supplemented by a salute of three volleys fired with blank cartridges. The battalion was then dismissed to prepare for the regu-lar dress parade at 5:80, the last regular dress parade at 5:80, the last regular ceremony under arms to be conducted at Camp Anacapa.

This morning after eating their breakfast the men will be required to pack their belongings for shipment to Los Angeles, teuts will then be struck and long before train time all signs of military life at the Ventura race track will have disappeared. The three local companies will arrive in this city by the midday train and march at once by the midday train and march at once from the depot to the armory where they will break ranks.

The soldiers have been most hospitably treated by the people of Ventura and there is a thorough appreciation on the part of both officers and men for the highly offers, and the complete the soldiers. on the part of both omcers and men for the kindly efforts used to make the visit of the soldiery a pleasant one.

consent of the parties owning the adjacent property has been obtained in writing for said abandonment; we, therefore, recommend that the City Attorney present the necessary ordinance abandoning the portion of said alley as petitioned for.

In the matter of the petitions from C. S. Miles et al., for Council to take action looking to the change of grade of a portion of Castelar street, as fully set forth in said petition and accompanying map, and for Council to take such further action as may be necessary to open a street to run from the northeast corner of the Masonic Cemetery and Castelar street to a junction with Bellevue avenue near Rosas street, and that a district of assessment be laid out; we recommend that the petition be referred to the City Attorney and that he be instructed to prepare and present ordinance of intention. The district of assessment will be hereafter determined upon by this board.

On the petition from Eugene Wolloc for permission to take dirt from the intersection of Fourth and Figueroa streets, to fill up his lot, we recommend that the matter be referred to the City Engineer for his report as to whether there is any surplus dirt.

On petition from J. M. C. Marble et al., for permission to grade, gravel and curb Thirty-second street between. Figueroa street and Key West street, by private contract under specifications No. 9, we recommend that the petition be granted, provided said street is graded in front of each lot, and provided, further, that the contractor be informed that if, in the judgment of the Street Superintendent, the material on any portion of said street is not of such a character as will make a good street surface, he will be required to place-at least four inches of good gravel on such portions of said street as the Street Superintendent may direct.

We recommend that the City Engineer be instructed to present an ordinance of intention to pave the intersection of Second and Los Angeles streets, with the same material and in the same manner as the other portion of Second street has been ordered paved with as recommended by the Street Superintendent.

In the matter of the petition from W. L. Cleveland et al., asking the Council to pass an ordinance fixing the width of sidewalks on Soto street between Brooklyn acenue and Sheridan street, at sixteen feet wide, so that the work of grading and curbing now in progress can be proceeded with on that basis, we recommend that the same be referred to the City Attorney.

IMPORTANT MEETING There will be an important meeting County Central Committee in the Califormia Bank building this evening.

The following circular was sent on yesterday:

A joint meeting of the presidents and representatives of the various Republican clubs and the Congressional and county executive committees is called to meet at the headquarters of the County Committee, rooms 28 and 29, California Bank building, Saturday evening. August 27, at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of arranging for the campaign on the evening of Saturday, September 3. You are earnestly requested to be present. Respectfully.

THE DEMOCRATS. They Will Formally Open the Campaign This Evening. This evening at 8 o'clock the Los Angeles Democrats will open the campaign, by order of the State Central Democratic Committee. After much running around and nu-merous curbstone consultations it has been decided to hold an open-air meeting in front of the new Courthouse, fronting on Broadway. While this may not be the most desirable place in the city for the reason that it is off the main thoroughfares, there is plenty of room for bondres and the speakers will have space enough on the monster steps, which will be used as a platform, to pull their hair and draw themselves around in all kinds of dramatic shapes, which goes a long way with the average unterrified.

The various committees were rushing around at a great rate all day yester-day completing arrangements for the booming of the sure-enough campaign that the rate of taxation may be kept laudible, and we feel like encouraging

it on general principles, but the committee propose to cut expenses at the wrong end. In other words, they talk of lopping off a part of the allowances authorized by the charter for the public schools and the library. This is a little like the short-sighted economy of some stop their newspaper. They cannot afford to economize in that direction.

Neither can the city government afford to cripple the public schools and the public library for the sake of saving a few cents on the tax levy. We doubt indeed, whether the taxpayers would desire to have them attempt it. The short accommodations in the public schools have been the topic of a good deal of discussion during the past few years, and the trend of public opinion has always been in the direction of making them more efficient, not less.

Thus, according to an English autho rity, the only compensation which the Democratic free trade party holds out to the wage-earners of America for cutting down their wages one-half is that the gost of living (already about as low as in free-trade England,) will probably be reduced to correspond with the lower scale of wages. A very slim probability indeed! The workingmen are asked to give up half of their earnings on the uncertain hope that they may get it back in savings. They will insist that the free trader talk a little

The Harbor Question is On, As far as the people of Los Angeles are concerned, there are comparatively few who supremely care whether a har bor appropriation is given to San Pedro or Santa Monica. All other things being equal, what they desire to see is a good harbor; as soon as possible, at the best location. There is, however, a very strong sentiment against the appropriation of public money for the enefit of a private corporation, to assist that corporation in maintaining a monopoly and charging "all the traffic will bear." The ocean front should be open to all common carriers. As between the rival claims of San Pedro and Santa Monica, THE TIMES desires to take no narrow sectional ground, but would like to see the spot selected which is most suitable in every way, and most advantageous to all con cerned-people and places. It should be remembered that the former board of engineers who examined into the subject reported in favor of San Pedro They must have had some good grounds for their report. Since then, lowever, the Southern Pacific Company has swung its influence and its efforts over to old Santa Monica Cañon, and the aim is now to convince the coming board of engineers that that is the place for the Government to go in.

The subject is now open, and whatever may be worthily said by the respective champions of San Pedro and Santa Monica we shall take pleasure in presenting as correspondence, to the end that there may be a full and fair discussion. Then let the engineers-the final arbiters --- decide, and let their decision be supported by the people and by Congress. A local diversion on the question, after that decision shall have been rendered, will be impolitic if not positively dangerous to ultimate success. The paramount end to be achieved is a good and adequate harbon for Los Angeles.

Rights of Young Republicans. The working classes would, of course, not be willing to remain without work, and manufacturers would have to reduce wages to enable them to compete successfully with other countries. Wages in America are at present about double what they are here, but if America adopted free trade they would probably be reduced by one-half and become equal to the wages paid here. The question of free trade or protection in America is, therefore, of far more importance to the work. I believe this objection to be well grounded, and as one of their number, wish to state that the fault lies in the young Republicans themselves they are not hard enough workers.

SAN PEDRO. Most of the shipping of Southern California has, from the earliest Spanish settlement, been done through San Pedro harbor, which consists of an inner harbor, formerly shut off from the sea by a bar, and an open roadstead sheltered from easterly winds by

The pilot of Cabrillo, the discoverer of Galifornia, who put into San Pedro 850 years ago in a storm, mentions the harbor in very complimentary terms.

The principal article of fereign import at San Pedro is coal, which comes from Australia and British Co-lumbia. Receipts of coal, during the lumbia. Receipts of coal, during the past seven years, have run from 48,000 to 168,000 tons annually. The receipts of coal in 1891 were about 90,000 tons. Lumber is the largest single article of domestic importation at San Pedro. During the building boom the receipts of lumber rose to 176,079,986 receipts 1887 and 157,749,220 feet in 1888. In 1891 a little over 50,600,000 feet were imported. Receipts of general merchandise amounted to about 15,000 tons in 1891, and were as high as 42,

Twenty years ago, after careful surveys, the Government entered upon the weys, the Government entered upon the work of improving San Pedro Harbor. A breakwater a mile and a barflong was constructed, and the depth of water on the bar, at low tide, has been increased from eighteen inches to fourteen feet. As nearly all the foreign commerce of San Pedro is carried in vessels of greater draft than eighteen feet, all such ship are still compelled to anchor in the roadstead and discharge and receive their cargo by lighter, which is very expensive which is very expensive. The harbor, experts say, is capable of being deepened to twenty-two feet, or more, at mean low tide, equivalent to a depth of from twenty-six to thirty feet at high tide, by a continuation of the work of jettying and dredging. It is this work for which an appropriation is desired.

the Santa Fé Railroad and of a couple of Oakland capitalists it has been developed into a busy commercial port. A wharf less than 1000 feet long supplied all the shipping facilities until a few months ago, when the wharf was somewhat lengthened. The configuration of the shore at this point is such that the end of the wharf is in deep water, and vessels of large fraught can safely lie there. A few months ago the Kirkcudbrightshire, one of the largest saling ships afloat, arrived from England ing ships affoat, arrived from England safely discharged at Redondo, and last week the Progreso, the pioneer steamship of an ocean line from New York, landed a thousand tops of freight. To show how Redondo has forged ahead, it is only necessary to mention that the show how Redondo has forged ahead, it is only necessary to mention that the Pacific Coast Steamship Company handled more freight last year at Redondo than at San Pedro.

Redondo has ambitions. Its citizens believe it to be a better site for a harbor than Santa Monica. A lively and sometimes acrimonious dispute is waged between the two towns on this question, varied only occasionally by a joint assault upon San Pedro. Redondo is, however, out of the present fight for is, however, out of the present fight for an appropriation, for reasons given

Before the wharf at Santa Monica was partially demolished, vessels called there safely at almost all seasons. Adthere safely at almost all seasons. Advocates of Santa Monica's views claim that it is one of the best harbor sites on the coast, and that 2000 acres of anchorage might easily be obtained be-tween Santa Monica and Point Dumé, at comparatively small expense, abund ance of material being at hand for moles. Little, however, has been heard in regard to securing an appropriation for a harbor at Santa Monica until quite recently, when the Southern Pacific Company extended its line along the beach to Santa Monica Caffon and decided to build a large wharf near that point.

At one time the Southern Pacific Com pany was a great friend of San Pedro It tore down the Santa Monica wharf to build up San Pedro, and was even ac cused of getting appropriations for San Pedro for its own private advantage, it having the only railroad to that point. Then came Redondo and serious compe-Then came Redondo and serious competition. The shipping business of Redondo, by steamship, has grown at the expense of San Pedro. Redondo is north of San Pedro; steamers from San Francisco touch there first and Los Angeles merchants consequently get their goods, via Redondo, half a day earlier than by way of San Pedro. Next came the Terminal Rallway (which will some day be another transcontinental line;) it built wharves on Rattlesnake Island and commenced further competition. The Southern Pacific met with active The Southern Pacific met with active rivalry in a territory over which it had long held undisputed and very profitable sway, for a few years ago the line to San Pedro was, with one exception, the most profitable line of railroad in the United States, for its length. The Southern Pacific Company saw that something must be done, and then decided on a harbor near Santa Monica Cañon. Coincident with this decision, antagonism to San Pedro harbor appropriations developed, and efforts were made to secure the choice of Santa Monica as a harbor site.

The main feature in the selection of the Santa Monica site for a wharf by the Southern Pacific Company is the fact that it is the most northerly point tributary to Los Angeles, at which a satisfactory harbor can be built. The Southern Pacific will then command the Coast-wise freight business to Los Angeles, for steamers from the north will discharge at their wharfearlier than at any other point in the county, thus giving them the same advantage over Redondo which Redondo now has over

In January last, the board of engi neers appointed by the act of September 19, 1890, to report on a site for a -water harbor between Point Dum and Capistrano, made its report, which was duly transmitted to Congress. The board stated that, after due examina-tion, it considered the selection of a site for a deep-water harbor, within the limits designated, was restricted to the bays of Santa Monica and San Pedro, and gave its opinion, with full reasons and gave its opinion, with full reasons therefor, that San Pedro was the better of the two. The people of Los Angeles were fully anticipating that the late Congress would appropriate a large sum for the gradual improvement of San Pedro. Meantime, however, as stated, the plans of the Southern Pacific Company had changed, and an adverse element was at work in Washington. C. P. Huntington was reported to have written a letter to Senator Frye, oppos-ing the San Pedro appropriation. Sena-tor Jones, another member of the com-mittee, is half owner of the Santa Monica ranch. A telegram from William Hood, the Southern Pacific engineer, was filed with Senator Frye, co trasting the asserted dangers and difficulties of San Pedro with the advantages of Santa Monica. A vicious attack upon San Pedro, of mysterious oritates gin, emanating from San Diego, but disowned by the Chamber of Commerce of that city, was secretly distributed among the Congressmen at Washington. Senator Felton was discouraged. Yet the people of Los Angeles were aston-ished and indignant when the River and Harbor Bill came out, with its beggarly papropriation of $20,000 for San Pedro, while Humboldt received $200,-000, Coos Bay, Or., $210,000 and Oakland $150,000, An indignation meeting was held at the Chamber of Commerce, at which Representative Bowers was roughly hauled over the coals, and protests were telegraphed to Washington. Senator Felton then succeeded in inducing the Senate Committee on Commerce to increase the appropriation for the inner harbor at San Pedro to inner harbor at San Pedro to the full amount of $51,000, which was asked for that portion of the work, the larger appropriation being required for the outer harbor. At the same time, provision was made for a hoard of five engineers, to make a new examination of the harbors of San Pedro and Santa Monica. It is this board which will be in Los Angeles about September 1.

THE CLAIMS OF SANTA MONICA. The Ground Gone Over from Another Standpoint,

The last issue of the Santa Monica Outlook contains an open letter to the the editor, in which Santa Monica's claims to the improvement are elaborately set forth. Mr. Fisher quotes the opinion of Chief Engineer Hood of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, as

Southern Pacific Railroad Company, as follows:
The improvements proposed at San Pedro by the United States engineers would protect sites for wharves between San Pedro and Point Firmin, where our test of the bottom showed a thin surface of sandy material, underlaid by a stratified rock of alternate hard sandstone and softer shale layers, making the subsequent building of wharves in the area so protected a very expensive undertaking for corporations or individuals. Also the area so protected is situated directly under a mesa or table land shore sixty feet above high tide, the face of which landing is a precipie constantly washed and undermined by the waves, and from which access to wharves or otherwise is difficult and expensive. The anchorage in the protected area is very poor holding ground from the character of the bottom described, and vessels would have to run to sea from southerly gales when they could no longer hold to a wharf safely. The proposed entrance between the two arms.

of the breakwaker is difficult to reach against a southerly gale, and there is not room enough between the north end of the north hreakwater and Point Firmin to render that passage safe in southerly storms. No suitable fock can be had tor breakwater nearer than Catalina Island, if brought by water, nor nearer than seventy-five miles pound trip haul, if brought by rail from the nearest grantle conserve and would then round trip haul, if brought by rail from the nearest grantic quarry: and would then have to be unloaded on barges and towed outside to the site of the breakwater, as the conformation of the shore and forma-tions of temporary railroad and trestle to the breakwater site for building by dump-ing rock direct from cars. In contrast with the above, Engineer conditions at Santa Monica:

The shore is a table land, with bluffs on the ocean, but the land at the foot of the bluffs is above the action of the waves, and a harbor improved by a breakwater will be of easy approach and utilization by wharf construction. The anchorage is good, the bottom being sandy material of a considerable depth. The United States engineers have marked outlines representing positions of breakwaters in raference to the old wharf and the contour of the bottom, which is such at a suitable distance out from the proper end of a wharf that much deeper water is encountered than is necessary. If breakwaters were so designed as to protect a harbor about two miles west of the old wharf, these breakwaters at a suitable distance out would probably require let rock to build them than at San Pedrowing to the shape of the shore vesse could always enter and leave, such harbouth with weather than the same with westerly or southerly gales with perfect safety. Granite of excellent quality for breakwater can be had by rail, with short haul and down grade, and the shore to west of the harbor to be protected and character of bottom is such as to make it practicable to build the breakwater from a temporary tresile and dump, the rock did temporary trestle and dump the rock di-rectly from the cars. With these advan-tages it would seem that a harbor can-be more cheaply protected at the point men-tioned in Santa Monica bay, and will be safer of access after being built than a har-bor at San Pedro bay."

Mr. Fisher urges, in detail, other points in favor of Santa Monica, and sums up the advantages of that location as follows:

First-Piles are more easily driver Second-The holding ground for better.

Third—The approaches for wharves are more satisfactory and therefore less expensive. Fourth-The holding ground for anchor-

Fourth—The holding ground for anchorage is better.

Fifth—The harbor approach would be easier in time of rough weather.

Sixth—The rock suitable for a breakwater is of a better character, is more convenient of access and can be delivered more cheaply.

Seventh—Santa Monica is nearer to Los Angeles by at least six miles.

Eighth—This point is not subject to a shoaling process as at San Pedro.

Ninth—Santa Monica can furnish better water.

Eleventh—It is the first point reached coming from San Francisco to Los Angeles, and the last to be left on the return trip, making both sea and land transit shorter. Twelfth—This is the chosen seaport of the Southern Pacific Railroad.

Thirteenth—Also of the Santa Fa

the Southern Pacific Railroad.
Thirteenth—Also of the Santa F6.
Fourpeenth—Will be on the direct coast route of the Southern Pacific from Portland, Or., to New Orleans.
Fifteenth—Not only nearer to Los Angeles, but has a better lay of land between the city and the sea.
Sixteenth—Is more attractive as a place of resort and residence.

[The matter will be pursued in a timely way, both sides being given a hearing in these columns. The final decision rests with the engineers.—ED. TIMES. ]

THAT CIRCUS LICENSE.

Still the Principal Topic of Discussion at the City Hall. From the commotion which the action of City Tax Collector Thompson in al-lowing Sells Bros.' circus to exhibit in the city for two days on the payment of one day's license of $500 has raised, it might be supposed that this was the first and only case on record. Such, however, is not the fact, for it appears that it has been the custom for cil and, no objection being made, the circus people were told they might go ahead and nothing more was thought Councilman Rees says that all the Councilmen were present except Messrs. Tufts and McGarry and when Mr. Thompson reported the case he told him if it was the custom he had no objecif it was the custom ne had no objec-tion. Mr. Thompson said it had always been done and, no one making any ob-jection, the concession was granted. Messrs. Innes and Nickell positively deny that they knew anything about any such arrangement, or that they were present when it was being discussed. Both state, however, that they received their complimentary tickets and presumably used them.

Mr. Thompson says that if there is any blame attached to any one he is any blame attached to any one, he is the man, and assumes all the respon-

The present discussion has, however, brought out considerable criticism of the Tax Collector's office. No charge is made that Mr. Thompson has not kept his accounts straight, or that his books are not correct, but it is claimed that he has been too easily influenced and has not enforced collections where they should have been made. For instance, the baseball people have paid no license, although, under the ordinance, they should pay $3 per day, which is the amount charged for all amusements not specifically named. There was some question about this matter when the baseball park first opened, and the City Attorney's office gave an opinion to the effect that they were liable for the $8 a day rate. It is the opinion of several of the Councilmen that the license ordinance requires overhauling and the matter may come up in the Council Monday.

MARION CANNON.

The People's Party Congressional No nee in the City Taking a Rest. Marion Cannon, the People's party candidate for Congress, is in the city resting after his labors, and recuperat a fresh start. Mr. Cannor claims to have drawn large crowds, and professes to be very hopeful of elec-tion. As to the prospects of his in-dorsement by the Democrats at their meeting in this city, Mr. Cannon is rather reticent. He inclines to the belief (or at least says that he does) that the Democrats will put up a streight nominee, but from the letter he wrote to Mr. Greene of Monterey, and which was shown at Santa Barbara, he is not was shown at Santa Barbara, he is not averse to indorsement, if he can get it without having to openly swallow the Democratic platform, and is even prepared to make some concessions, if a way can be found by which that can be the wall-boot either side height mut. way can be found by which that can be done without either side being put in too awkward a position. At any rate, from some cause there has been a marked change in sentiment among the local Democrats since the Santa Barbara convention, and some of those bara convention, and some of those who were most pronounced in favor of a straight nomination are now loudest in advocating fusion. Under these circumstances, it is not beyond the range of possibilities that Mr. Cannon and the Democratic leaders may accidentally have a quiet meeting to talk over the struction and compare notes, with a Democratic leaders may accidentally have a quiet meeting to talk over the situation and compare notes, with a view to arriving at some sort of an understanding.

Mr. Cannon will speak 'n this city on the evening of September 1, with Mrs. Diggs, after a day meeting at Downey.

LAWN TENNIS.

Fourth Day of the Santa Monica Tournament.

Some of the Most Brilliant Playing of the Season.

The Mixed Doubles and Association Gentlemen's Singles.

The Grand Ball at the Arcagia Last Even ing a Very Enjoyable Affair-The Tournament Will Close This

With yesterday afternoon's pro-gramme closed the fourth and most suc-cessful day of the tournament. It is how the interest has been wonderful maintained through the long events of the preceding days, which, instead of languishing in the usual manner has been constantly on the increase as every day brings new players to the front to snatch the laurels from the champions of tournaments past. THE MIXED DOUBLES.

Yesterday the mixed doubles were continued between Miss Carter and R. P. Carter and M. A. Chase and Miss Gilliland. It was an exciting play, which called forth bursts of applause alike for both sides of the contest. Gilliland. which called forth bursts of applause alike for both sides of the contest. Catter made some of his fine strokes with his customary ease of motion and Miss Carter supported well. On the other hand, Chase began with very poor playing. His side lost the first set by bad odds. The long and difficult exercise had begun to tell on him, for he was worn out and nervous. On the was worn out and nervous. On the next, points began to array themselves in a more equable manner. Carter never forgot himself, and Miss Carter went on in her usual unperturbed man-ner. At the end of the set the scores balanced. Chase received very strong assistance from Miss Gilliland and by getting back to his usual good game did his part to score the last set 6-2, which retired Mr. and Miss Carter.

In the afternoon the finals on the mixed doubles displayed to the largest crowd that has yet gathered at the courts, playing of such exceptionally fine points as to call forth a succession fine points as to call forth a of rounds of applause that was almost deafening.

The match was with Miss Gilliland and M. A. Chase opposed to Miss Shoemaker and Cawston. It was an exhibition of tennis on a scientific basis, and, although it wore itself along to such a tedious length, those who saw it through shouted themselves hoarse cheering on the players of either side. Like his brother, young Chase did not appear to care whether his side gained or not, so fatigueing had been the games preceding. It was for awhile a long steady lob. Scarcely any vigorous drives were indulged in, each contenting his or herself with carefully "planting his or herself with carefully "Plant-ing" the ball in the endeavor for points and not strategic plays. Miss Shoemaker of Pasadena is one of the most graceful lady players on the courts, while Miss Gilliland's pecourts, while Miss Gilliand speculiar underhand serve is a marvel in its way. On set No. 1 Miss Gilliand and Chase won by 6-4, and likewise on the second by 6-3. The next they lost, 4-6. The fourth swelled their rising defeat by 3-6. This made it necessary to play the entire five sets before a decision could be reached. Cawston was in for call the work there might be coming, but Chase wanted a continuance until this morning. The umpire decided that the games were to go right along, and an appeal was taken on his decision to the Executive Committee. During the interval many spectators left their seats, but the match soon went merrily on, miss Gilliland and Chase gaining the victory by the total score, 6-4, 6-3, 4-6, 3-6, 6-8.

GENTLEMEN'S SINGLES

In the association gentlemen's singles Germain beat stoll, 6-0, 6-1; Alexander beat Manning, 6-1, 6-1; L. N. Chase beat Cochran, 6-3, 5-6, 6-3.

The finals in these matches will be played today, as will also those of the association doubles. On the latter, association doubles. On the latter, Bumiller and Gochrane against Butcher and Lester spent nearly the entire afternoon trying to come to a conclusion on points, which they finally did with 6-8, 6-5 in the former's favor. Cosby and Germain won a like match from Woodhous and Lester, 6-5, 6-8 and R. P. and K. Carter from Edwards and Acker, 6-3, 6-3. Today will close the programme. There will be finals in the above games as already noted, the distribution of the elegant prizes takes place, and later in the day will come the great polo game between the Riversiders, and Santa Monicans, making a day full of excitement and interest.

It is seldom, indeed, that there is gathered together so many, happy faces and so much of joyous youth as was to be viewed last evening in the spacious dance hall of the Hotel Arcadia. JE are taking hold of the Dress Goods Department in the same manner we took hold of the Cloak Department; these two departments go hand in hand. Everybody knows the Cloak Department is the most successful of any in the city; it equals today the combined sales of all the cloak houses in this city. The Dress Goods Department is gaining very rapidly; popular goods at prices you never dreamed of before. The Cloak Department is always the largest department; there is more money invested and more sales made. The Dress Goods Department of this house is double today what it was one year ago, and it is the intention to throw an extra amount of energy in this direction. Where there is determination there is success-we are in the battle to win. All-wool Henriettas, 38 inches wide, 40 shades to select from; we sell them for 55c; you pay 75c and 80c elsewhere. Samples given for comparison. All-wool Bedford Cords; fine quality, the dollar grade; they, too, are offered for 55c. The Black Goods Department shows fully 200 different styles and at all prices, from 25c to $2.00 per yard; we specially recommend our line for $1.00-over 100 different styles of Black Goods at a dollar a yard. The business of this house is showing a most wonderful increase. Read Sunday's Times for our great sale Monday. There is meat in the cocoanut for you; we have snipped the prices all along the line; it is our new way to get you interested. Shoes closing today at factory cost; you will find the Shoe Department near the pattern counter. We have doubled the size of our Cloak Department. Men's Shoes in sizes 9, 9 1-2, 10 and 10 1-2; take your choice for $2.50. We still have a big lot of Children's Shoes; they go at factory cost; also a lot of ladies' medium and cheap grade of shoes. The profit has been taken off—going entirely out of shoes.

This is: If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every your money back. It isn't a "cure-all," but it does cure all diseases arising from a torpid or daranged liver, or from impure blood. For all Scrofulous, Skin and Scalp Diseases, it's a positive remedy. Even Consumption, or Lung-scrofula, is cured by it, if taken in time and given a fair trial. That's all that's asked for it—a fair trial. That's all that's asked for it—a fair trial. Then if it doesn't benefit of the board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. A Hotbed of Iniquity-The Marshal's Clever Work.

Open-air Band Concert at the Hotel Green Park.

Locomotive off the Track-Masons Mee at Monrovia-People Coming and Going-The News Briefly Summed Up.

The shady side of life in San Francisco and Los Angeles Chinatowns has furnished an endless amount of material for sensational stories in newspapers and maga-zines—stories which most people, who have never studied, the habits of the Celestial, discredit and set down as gross exaggera-

Pasadena also has a Chinatiown, but it has never been written up—at least to any great extent—for it is an unpretentious set-tlement, where most of the good people of town doubtless believe no evil lurks. In fact there is little about the score or more of little frame houses scattered here and there on Raymond and Fair Oaks avenues bouth of California street to indicate dark feeds or tricks that that are vain, and it remained for Marshal Buchanan, who assumed the duties of his, responsible, position only a few months ago, to begin the work of official investigation in this locality. The ground has not yet been thoroughly covered by any means, but enough has been learned to justify the assertion that this same little Chinatown is a veritable hotbed of iniquity, where some of the most degraded wretches in this section of the State find quarters, and where abominable practices are continually carried on in the darkness of night. The Chinaman is the most difficult kind of a criminal to apprehend on his own ground. He is sly and wary; he is silent and thoroughly at home in the dark, while the officer of the law is never at home in the home of the Chinaman. Hence is experienced great difficulty in bringing the sad-eyed offenders to justice. But the work has been begun, and it is safe to predict that before Marshal Buchanan gets through, crime will cease to flourish in Chinatown, or else most of the offenders will be caught and made to answer to some serious charges in a court of justice.

The truth of these remarks is illustrated fact there is little about the score or more of little frame houses scattered here and a court of justice.

The truth of these remarks is illustrated in the following story, the main incidents of which happened several days ago, and which have been kept out of print until now for obyious reasons.

SHE WAS KIDNAPED.

On the afternoon in question a young On the afternoon in question a young woman of prepossessing appearance and tastefully dressed might have been noticed walking up South Fair Oaks avenue, A short distance below California street she suddenly disappeared. The last seen of her she was talking to three Chinamen. Early in the evening Marshal Buchanan in a way best known to himself heard something to the effect that a woman had been kidnaped in Chinatown. He accordingly started out about midnight to find her in company with Constable Slater, who, by the way, has no superior in his particular line.

THE CONSTABLE FALLS IN A TRAP.

THE CONSTABLE FALLS IN A TRAP.

In the dead of night the stalwart pair entered the gloomy and apparently utterly forsaken confines of Chinatown. Constable Slater carried a dark lantern. A little house on the west side of Raymond avenue Silater carried a dark lantern. A little house on the west side of Raymond avenue a short distance south of the Pasadena Milling Company's building had previously been suspicioned as the hiding place of the woman. Not a sign of light could be seen and the interior was as silent as a deserted tomb, or something of that'sort. The Constable guarded one door, while the Marshal rappied gently at another. The latter was opened a few inches and then quicky slammed shut. The Marshal then kicked it in. A candle in the rear room was blown out, but not before the Marshal had noticed what seemed to be a dozen Chinamen scurrying in every direction. It was pitch dark, so he called to the Constable to bring on the lantern. The light sent everybody scampering to the back room. Constable slater followed in hot pursuit, and the first thing he knew he had fallen into a trap in the floor. There was a terrific crash and the light went out simultaneously with the Chinamen. The Marshal manufine had the light went out simultaneously with the the noor. There was a terrine crash and the light went out simultaneously with the Chinamen. The Marshal meantime had made his exit from the building, and in the chill night air he saw the shadowy form of a woman moving off toward California street at a Nancy Hanks pace. The Marshal bore down heavily in the same direction and soon overtook her. The woman was completely exhausted and would say but little.

THE WOMAN'S STORY.

After rescuing Constable Slater from the perilous pit into which he had fallen, the prisoner was conducted to the jail, where she was made comfortable for the balance of the night. She was a complete physical wreck, and it was with much difficulty that Moulin on a complaint of assault with a deadly weapon on the person of Samuel Finicy was begun on the person of Samuer Frincy was begun yesterday morning in Judge Mark's courf. The examination was tedious and did not excite much interest until about noon when Y. Rouiz, the bartender in the saloon where the shooting occurred, took the stand. Rouiz's testimony indicated plainly that Finley was the aggressor, and that he had forced Moulin into the fight; that Finley first drew his revolver and muttering imprecations attempted to fire the weapon in Moulin's face, but the cartridge was not good and the pistol therefore snapped. By this time Moulin pulled his "gun" and immediately came the fusilade between them. Both kept shooting and dodging alternately behind whisky barrels until Finley's pistol "run dry." Then the men clinched and Finley being the younger, larger and more powerful of the two forted his antagonist to the floor. A boy named George Wilton stepping into the saloon and seeing the struggle picked up a stick and struck Finley over the head with it. At the same time the bartender slipped Moulin's pistol away, thus disarming the men. The pistol were taken out of the saloon and given to the officer, who arrested the fighting men. Finley's story is altogether different. He testified under oath that Moulin forced the shooting and the hand-to-hand fight, and that he only drew his pistol and used'ti in order to defend his life. This story, however, is not believed by the general public as Finley is reported as saving in public a number of times that he would shoot Moulin on sight. Just about a year ago these men came near meeting in deally combat. Had & not been for the interference of friends at an opportune time there would have been bloodshed then. The trouble dates back several years when Moulin claims that Finley wrecked his domestic happiness by irtue. precations attempted to fire the weapon in Moulin's face, but the cartridge was not several years when Moulin claims that Finley wrecked his domestic happiness by leading his wife from the paths of virtue. The feeling here in the city appears to be very much against Finley, and it is believed now that he will be the one that will be made to pay the penalty instead of Moulin The trial is not yet completed, and a counter charge, with Moulin as domplaining witness, against Finley with assault with a deadly weapon, is set for this morning at 10 o'clock.

It was reported on the streets last night that a friend of Moulin's had an eye on Finley, and that if he got out of this scrape he would have to answer to him for the assault on the old man [Moulin.) It is said that this friend is a good shot and if matters are not soon settled some way there may be more blood spilled on account of the old feud.

Mrs. G. W. Bentley No. 1, who is now in possession of the Bentley ranch near Garden Grove' was in the city yesterday. To THE TIMES reporter she spoke of the return of her recreant husband in a rather matter-of-fact way. "Just say in the paper, Mr. Reporter," said Mrs. Bentley, "that if Mr. Bentley had not left his wife, family and home in the East and run away with another man's wife and the mother of several children, the people would not have talked about him so much. He seems to feel, from what the papers say, that he is a much-abused man, and that his character has been damaged by evil-disposed persons. He probably forgot all about his character when he left me and ran away with "Meadie" Kidney. No, he has not been out to see us yet and I don't suppose he will come yet awhile. For my part I never want to see his face again."

Changing the Grade of the Blue Line Horse Road.

The First of the Cable Company's Lines to Be Electrized-Returning Seashore Sojourners-General Notes.

17, due to arrive at Los Angeles from San Francisco at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning, narrowly escaped a great disaster at Bakersfield. The train was just about to enter that city yesterday morning, when an open switch diverted it from the main track and caused it to run upon a siding, where stood a freight train. The engine of the passenger train crashed into the freight cars, burying itself in the wreckage. One freight car loaded with sugar was thrown entirely upon the one next to it, crushing in the roof of the second car and scattering the cargo. The mail and baggage car telescoped, and the men in the latter—had an ex-tremely close call for their lives. being completely penned in with shifted trunks. The fireman jumped early and escaped without injury, but the engin-eer remained in the cab until the crash came and he was badly, though not dangerously, bruised. The engine and all the cars of the train excepting only the two rear sleepers, left the tracky and while passengers in the coaches were given a lively shaking up those in the sleepers scarcely felt anything unusual in the sudden stop. Engineer Phipps was the only person injured and he is now at his home in Bakersfield doing well. Engineer Phipps was in the recent Collis train robbery, and he thinks that incidents are crowding each other in his eventful life. The train other in his eventful life. manager of the San Diego County World's Fair Executive Committee:

No doubt you hear quite a little these days about a Cabrillo celebration which San Diego is working up. There is a possibility the idea may go abroad that San Diego is trying to take more credit to herself than she ought in this matter. I do not think it would be correct. True, we locate the celebration here, for here it was that the Spanish navigator first struck what is now the const of this State, and the name of the celebration is "The Discovery of San Diego Bay and the Coast of California." It is surely proper that such a celebration be here, but we do not wish that it be a San Diego affair alone. We want all the State to join us in the matter especially our neighbors in the southern part.

Arrangements are being made for a big time. One day will be devoted to land demonstrations, when there will be a monster parade, and another day to naval demonstrations. A number of warships belonging to this Nation and others are expected, and it is not improbable that we will rig out a vessel very much like the one which brought the discoverer into these waters.

I am not a member of the Committee of which brought the discoverer into these waters.

I am not a member of the Committee of Invitation, but being a San Diegan wish to extend a special invitation to your people, whom I have frequently had the pleasure of meeting on World's Fair business, to come down on that occasion and rejoice with us. We will put on our best clothes and give them a most cordial greeting. I have been up to Los Angeles a dozen times and now will expect a return call from at least a dozen of "the Angels." I am, yours for success, R. H. YOUNG.

The strength comes from cream of tartar and soda, only, no ammonia, no alum. It does the most work and the best work, and, best of all, it is perfectly wholesome,

The above are two fac similes of many REWARDS OF MERIT or DIPLOMAS of PROFES-SIONAL SKILL which have from time to time been awarded to the CELEBRATED CHINESE SIONAL SKILL which have from time to time been awarded to the CELEBRATED CHINESE PHYSICIAN, DR. WONG, for his superior medical abilities and curative powers.

It has long been customary among the Chinese people when one becomes sick and when repeated attempts to cure him have failed, and he is perhaps given up to die, if, after having been taken to an eminent physician, he be cured of his disease—the cured, too in addition to the regular fee for professional services rendered, makes the physician a present as a toshe of grattude for his restoration to health and the prolongation of his life. This present consists usually of a bread plank, presenting much the appearance of a sign-board, filled with characters entirely meaningless to the average English scholar, but full of meaning to the successful physician and his friends. It is a motto which highly compliments the physician for his great skill in effecting a cure of the disease which once afflicted the donor.

It is not an uncommon thing to see a great number of these COMPLIMENTARY DIPLOMAS adorning the office walls of Chinese physicians in their native country, and indeed a number of the most successful ones in this country are the happy possessors of a few of these high tokens of very superior medical ability.
